Registering

(1) Enter the TLG site through Penn’s proxy via the Classical Studies: Print and Online Resource Guide or by searching Thesaurus Linguae Graecae in Franklin.
   *If you do not go through the proxy, you will be unable to register as an institutional user and will be unable to access the Full Corpus.

(2) Once on the TLG site, navigate to the tab in the top right hand corner and select “Register” from the Login/Register options.

(3) After you fill out the form, click the link sent in a registration email to access your account. From there you will be able to set your account preferences as well as access the Full Corpus.

Navigating The Site
Searching for Texts

The Canon tool is a bibliographical guide.

To search full text, select Full Corpus (Subscription Required) from the third tab at the top of the Home page then select the third tab, Text Search.

Selecting the fourth tab, Browse will search by author. Once you type the author’s name, a gold box will pop up containing the author’s works. From there you can select the appropriate work.

TLG Features

Hovering over the Browse tab will create a dropdown list from which Parallel Browsing can be selected and two texts compared side by side.

Tabs 5-7, Lexica, N-grams, Statistics, and Vocab. Tools respectively, provide additional resources on textual analysis.
