SelectedWorks
Build your researcher profile

SELECTEDWORKS™

SelectedWorks allows you to present to the world a virtual library of your research. An easy-to-navigate interface gives you control over the content of your site without the need to understand computer code.

Increased Readership & Impact

Your research is indexed by Google and other search engines, and readers can learn of your new publications through RSS feeds and mailing lists.
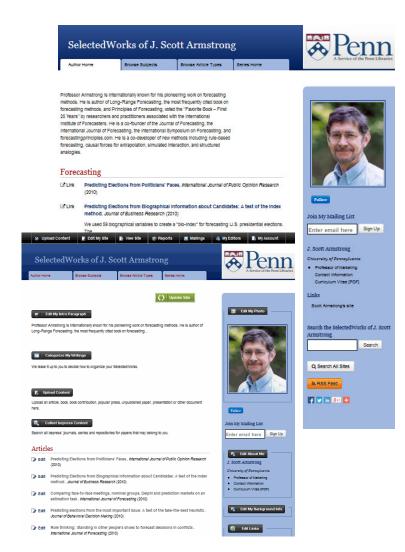

Freedom & Flexibility

You decide how to share your work with the world. Immediately post any type of material, and create your own subject categories to represent the breadth and depth of your work.

Easy Upload & Editing

You can create your own publishing platform in minutes. Post the full text, link to the full text on another site, or simply cite your work. Grant others administrative privileges to edit your site for you.

ScholarlyCommons

SelectedWorks is closely integrated with Penn's institutional repository, ScholarlyCommons (http://repository.upenn.edu). Add all of your articles in ScholarlyCommons to your SelectedWorks site with just the click of a button!
